

The Space Industry Needs You!!

WANTED: College students in science, technology, engineering, mathematics, and business administration, transitioning military, and entry level aerospace personnel

Combine your education and talents with your interest in space. To learn more about opportunities in the space industry, plan to attend the annual Space Career Fair — hosted by the Space Foundation, its corporate members and sponsoring companies.

REGISTER NOW!! The first 300 participants that REGISTER and ATTEND the “Meet the Company” morning sessions will receive a complimentary networking lunch with sponsoring companies.

What: SPACE CAREER FAIR

Who: Undergraduate and Graduate Students with a valid Student ID, Transitioning Military, and Entry/Mid Level Aerospace Personnel

When: Tuesday, April 5, 2005

Where: The Broadmoor Hotel's Broadmoor West Ballroom in Colorado Springs, Colorado
(Conducted as part of the 21st National Space Symposium, held at The Broadmoor April 4-7)

Cost: FREE to attend, but pre-registration is required.

The Space Career Fair features “Meet the Company” presentations by space industry representatives, entrance into the Space Career Pavilion and a visitor’s pass into the Ball Aerospace & Technologies Corp. Exhibit Center at the 21st National Space Symposium. Registrants will also have the opportunity to e-mail their resumes to leading space companies prior to the event for a pre-scheduled interview.

Company representatives will be available to discuss current career opportunities, industry trends, and upcoming civil, commercial, and national security needs.

For more information, schedule of events, and on-line registration visit www.spacecareerfair.org or call 1.800.691.4000.